FREW & CAMPBELL

TUENDAY, APRIL 20, 1875.

Inflationists' Fallacies Exposed. We have already called attention to the manner in which the practical operation of the recent currency laws has dis-proved the arguments of the inflationists. report of the Comptroller of the Currency shows that the laws are still working in a similar manner. The bill approved June 30, 1874, authorized the ecretary of the Treasury to issue circulating notes not to exceed $55,000,000 to banks in the States and Territories having less than their proportionate circuion, and to withdraw a like amount from the States and Territories holding The report shows that the ount of the applications for increased circulation from banks now organized has been $315,000 since April 1, of which amount $270,000 was from the Eastern and Middle States and $45,000 from the Western States. The amount of legal tender notes deposited for the purpose of surrendering bank circulation since the lat of April has been $949,275, of which amount $179,000 was surrendered by banks in the Middle and Eastern States, $112,000 by banks in the Southern States, and $657,800 by banks in the Western States. The total amount of legal tender notes deposited to surrender circulation since the passage of the net of June 30, 1874, has been $18,245,312. The amount of additional national bank circulation issued since the first of April has been $626,230, and the total amount issued since the passage of the act of Jannary 14, 1875, $4,182,830. The amount of issued since the passage of the act of January 14, 1875, $4,182,830. The amount of national bank notes destroyed, of banks which are in liquidation, or which have deposited legal tender notes since the passage of the act of June 20, 1874, is $5,024,585. Forty-eight national banks, having a capital of $4,585,000, have been organized since November 1, the date of the publication of the annual report of the Comptroller.

Senator Morton declared, in a speech delivered in February, 1874, that it would require from $50,000,000 to $60,000,000 of additional currency to supply the demand of the Western States. Less than $5,000,000 have been called for by the act, while the surrender of circulation has been nearly four times that amount.

The Republican Party.

Vice President Wilson has been attending the centennial of the Pennsylvania Anti-Slavery Society, in Philadelphia, and, of course, has fallen into the hands of the newspaper interviewers. His political shrewdness has never been questioned; indeed, his astuteness on political questions has in times past taken the form of prophesy. In a somewhat extended interview, doubtless with Col. McClure himself, which we find in the Philadelphia Times, he has the following the case of the mand and as a result prices would decline again.

THE EFFECT ON THE FIG IRON TRADE.

"The effect of this resumption on the contract of the custing twon trans the profit cap the contract of the custing two trans as yet. Its first effect will doubtless be to advance somewhat the position trans the price of pig iron. Philadelphia Times, he has the following to say of the Republican party:

"The Republican party can carry this country, but it will, I think, need one element to make its contest an assured success, and that is, what I have insisted on persistently and with all my power, a reunion of the old Lincoln Republican forces—a bringing back of the men who separated from us in 1872 without cause; that is, not in my judgment, sufficient cause to imperit a great party. And I was, of course, opposed to any such breach being made. I said the last night of the session of 1872, when this Greeley movement was on the tapis, that I wanted all those men who followed Mr. Greeley, and such newspapers as the Springfield Republican, the Cincinnat Commercial and the two Tribuses, Governor Curtin and McClure, of your State, and such men to come back. I wanted them then, I want them now, and I think that the leading men of the Republican party should take immediate steps to bring them back—to make an honeat effort to reunite the party. We would then have not a shadow of doubt in the contest of 76. The Republican party possesses one factor which will tell with learful effect. "What has been accomplished by the lock-out? Nothing, It has enabled the mills to work up a large amount of old muck bar and the accumulated old stock of years; but they have lost the Spring trade, and, by their complete discomfiture, the prestige of years past in controlling their employes. Now it will be impossible to say where the elation of the boilers over their success will lead them, or what demands they may choose to make. have not a shadow of doubt in the contest of 76. The Republican party possesses one factor which will tell with learful effect upon the adverse forces, and that is that the loyal people of this country are rootedly averse to allowing the reins of government to go into the hands of the men who did all in their power, both at the North and in the South, to overset the Government. It was this which carried the country in 1872. I am for the largest the country in 1872. I am for the largest the country in 1872. I am for the largest the country in 1872. I am for the largest inberality to the South, but am not willing all the same state of things exists throughout the in that is should again get possession of the government of the whole country. The reunion of our forces and the correction of abuses, which undoubtedly exist, would carry the country, but I don't say this plan will be adopted."

AN ON THE WING LETTER.

HALE HOUSE, CHARLESTON, W. VA.

THE PRICE OF ORE YOR 1875.

THE PITTSBURGH LOCK-OUT.

The Probable Effect of the Re-sumption on the Trade. The lock-out of the puddlers in Pittsourgh has engaged general attention, and Wheeling is now preparing to construct a building for State purposes. What I wish to call the attention of her citizens to is this, probably I can be better understood by reducing my ideas to a single rule of three proposition. If Charleston with a population of four thousand can construct such buildings as before referred to, what cannot Wheeling do with her prosperous wide-awake population of twenty-five or thirty thousand. The permmency of the Capitol at Wheeling will depend very much on the kind of accommodations provided. A fine structure will have much to do in determining the result. Will she not furnish it? This done, I think there is no good reason to apprehend any serious opposition to its permanent location at Wheeling. There is considerable activity displayed here in the way of public improvements. Grading, curbing, paying, &c. While a considerable force is engaged cleaning away debris from the site of the burnt districts preparatory to building. Charleston is not dead if the Capitol has been removed. The people are determined to let the world move as it will, they will be gay and happy still.

I find a much healthier state of feeling here than was anticipated. Some persons prophesied that it would be very unpleasiant for Wheelingites to visit Charleston. I felt a degree of relief when my "body guard," Major Doddridge, assured me I would not be molested. I was not long in making the discovery that my apprehenessions were groundless. I mention this for the heneft of any of our citizens who may contemplate a visit to Charleston.
